

Azienda Agricola Colle Cesoni soc. agr. s.s. does not collect personal information other than when it is offered voluntarily by customers.

The company does require, for operational purposes, that customers supply personal information, such as telephone numbers and addresses, during the purchase process. This is necessary whether a booking is made on-line, by telephone or by post. If you are making a purchase we do not use cookies to keep track of the transaction.

We may also collect information about your visit to our website, and how you use our site during your visit. This may include the areas of the site you visit and searches and bookings made. This helps us to provide better offers to all of our customers and to further develop our products and services and how they are presented on our site making them more suited to the changing needs of our customers.

We may also retain details provided by you in order for your enquiries or requests for bookings to be processed efficiently, and to keep you informed of any relevant information relating to your booking and to analyse and understand better our customers' requirements.

If you believe that we are storing details relating to you which may be incorrect, please email us at info@collecesoni.it and we will make corrections as soon as possible. This information is not stored in a central database and is not accessible electronically. Security measures are in place to ensure that our customers' data is safe from unauthorised access. We may use the information you provide to tell you about other offers from Agriturismo Colle Cesoni.
